

2022 Call for Projects: Bringing a Sacred Place to Your Community

Nature Sacred exists to inspire, inform and guide communities in the creation of public green spaces—called Sacred Places—designed to improve mental health, unify communities and engender peace. The Nature Sacred Design Process forges a partnership between a community leader and a landscape architect to guide community members through a visionary charrette process to achieve a welcoming Sacred Place. As each community imagines its own space, the design becomes a unique reflection of its culture, story and place—making it inherently sacred to them.

Overview

What is Nature Sacred?

Nature Sacred exists to inspire, inform and guide communities in the creation of public green spaces — called Sacred Places — designed to improve mental health, unify communities and engender peace. For 25 years, Nature Sacred has partnered with over 130 communities across the country to infuse nearby nature into places where healing is often needed most: distressed urban neighborhoods, schools, hospitals, prisons and more. Through a collaborative, community-led process and an evidence-based design model, each Sacred Place is bonded together by a common goal: to reconnect people with nature in ways that foster mindful reflection, restore mental health and strengthen communities. As each community imagines its own space, the design becomes a unique reflection of the community's culture, story and place — making it inherently sacred to them. Get to know our model, our approach and our network.

What is the Nature Sacred difference?

- Our design concept. Nature Sacred applies 4 guiding principles and 4 design elements to each of our Sacred Places. The guiding principles ensure that all Sacred Places are welcoming to all and easily accessible to the communities they serve. Meanwhile, the 4 design elements provide a framework for imbuing a Sacred Place with a special sense of intentionality and peace, while retaining the flexibility to be intricately honed to each community's unique values and needs.
- Our design process. The Nature Sacred Design Process forges a partnership between a community leader — whom we call a Firesoul — and a landscape architect or designer — a Nature Sacred Design Advisor — to guide community members through a visionary charrette process to achieve a welcoming Sacred Place. Our process is as follows:
 - For each project, Nature Sacred works to designate a Design Advisor (DA), a Firesoul, and a Design Stakeholder Group (DSG) to support the Firesoul during the design process.
 - Nature Sacred and the DA work with the Firesoul and the DSG to solicit community participation in the form of a survey and two visionary charrettes (interactive design workshops). Based on the feedback from the survey and charrettes, the DA will craft and refine a design for the site.

- At the end of the design process, this design now belongs to the community to implement. As a way of making sure the space envisioned by the community comes to pass, Nature Sacred requires that communities fundraise for a minimum of $30,000 to cover construction costs, and that all Sacred Places be constructed within 18 months of the first charrette.
- Our investment. During the design process, Nature Sacred invests approximately $50,000 in design and community engagement services into your project. This includes an installation of the signature Nature Sacred bench at your site. And Nature Sacred stays with you beyond the design, too.
- The Nature Sacred Firesoul Network. After your site is opened, Firesouls are oriented into the Nature Sacred Firesoul network, which exists to cultivate collaboration and alliance between Firesouls across cities and states. They have continual access to the benefits it offers, including eligibility for enhancement grants for your Sacred Place, educational programming, and networking sessions.

Questionnaire

Tell us about you.

1. What is your name?
2. What is your email address?
3. What is your phone number?
4. What organization do you represent?
5. What are the mission and goals of your organization? In particular, please tell us about how your organization supports diverse populations.
6. What is your role at your organization?
7. Is your organization a 501(c)(3), public agency, or tribal entity?
8. What were your organization's total expenses in the last year?
9. Does your organization have an endowment?
 10. If yes, what is the size of your organization's endowment? If no, you may write N/A.
11. Does your organization provide services to disinvested populations?
12. Do you own the site or hold a 10 year minimum lease or easement on that land?

Tell us why you want to create a Sacred Place.

13. What inspired you to fill out this form?
14. How would a Sacred Place bring healing to your community? What community needs would a Sacred Place serve?
15. Who do you think would be the Firesoul for this site? Tell us about them and their passion for your community. For reference, see our directory of Firesouls.
16. Can you give us a current snapshot of the surrounding area? What is your community like? Who lives there? Who would be engaged in the creation of the Sacred Place?
17. History! Tell us the history of your community. How has it evolved and changed through the years? Have there been any major events that have shaped its current state?
18. To what extent is your community currently able to access high-quality contemplative green space?
19. Do you have potential sources of funding for the construction of a Sacred Place? $30,000 is required as a minimum investment into implementation funding.
20. Openness: To what extent would your site be welcoming to the broader community?
21. Can you identify any additional potential stakeholders in this design process? These can be businesses, neighborhood associations, nonprofits, clubs, individuals, etc.

Tell us About Your Proposed Site!

22. This information helps our Design Advisors glean an understanding of your site before they have even seen it. And it helps us make sure this Sacred Place is designed to fit the needs and capacity of your community. Don't worry if you don't know all the answers — it won't affect whether your site is chosen!
23. What is the address of your proposed site?
24. What is the approximate area of your proposed site?
25. Does the site have water access?
26. Does the site have existing lighting or an electrical connection?
27. What's going on above the site? Is it open or shaded, are there utility lines overhead?
28. Do you have a plan for ongoing maintenance post-construction or are you prepared to develop one?
29. Please share with us some photos of your site. You may submit up to 5.
